Well we're off to a blazing start in our New Year! Lindsay Jensen, our new fiddler just flew out to pose for new promo shots and next week we're taking Annie Mariner with us up to Wyoming for a 4 day tour. We're pleased to have both of them with us. Annie will do more of the local shows while Lindsay will join us for the major tours so she can go home to Milwaukee and see her cat every once in a while.

Lindsay will be with us for our trip to the Southeast and the Northwest as well as our two weeks in Hawaii, which we are all looking forward to! We're filling in our calendar as fast as we can so if you or someone you know is interested in presenting a Muses performance, contact us so we can make sure to get you scheduled!

We'll see you out there!

Hello again everyone!

Matt here, and I wanted to send our heartfelt wishes for a fantastic 2008 to you all! We are very excited about this new year. The addition of Lindsay and Annie will give us even more versatility and greater depth in our harmonies, to say nothing of wonderful new additions in instrumentation! They are both wonderful to tour with and great to share the stage with as well! We were expecting to have our new bus finished by now, but it's been delayed and they are now saying that we should have it by the end of this summer. One way or the other we are looking forward to finally getting into a bus sometime in 2008 and that will make everything a bit better as well. Thank you all for your devoted listening, and for enjoying something that brings us such joy to produce! With the tour schedules filling up quickly, and all of the exciting new changes, 2008 is set and ready to prove our best year yet! Please continue to keep up with us through our website www.TheMusesMusic.com and our blog www.KiltedManBlog.com where we will do our best to provide you with up-to-date information on where we are and what's going on with us!

Hi Everybody, this is Lindsay. I'm the new fiddler for The Muses, and I sing a little too. I live in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and I'm looking forward to traveling the country and getting a chance to meet you all! I've been playing the fiddle for about 15 years, and I've been singing Celtic Folk style music for about 6 years. The group I've been playing with back home is called Seelie Court and we played similar style music at Renaissance Faires, Celtic Festivals, and Irish Pubs, so this has been a relatively easy transition to make for me so far. I'm excited to have this chance to play more often and at a more professional level and I'll actually be a full time musician.

Matt and Tanya are great musicians and super fun people, and I'm very honored to be able to play with them! I'll see you on the road!

 -Lindsay

Become a Muses Patron of the Arts!

Yes, we are still looking for sponsors to help us pay for the bus. It is a great marketing opportunity for your company or just a cool way for you to contribute to keeping the music happening! Sponsorship information and levels are available at www.TheMusesMusic.com/sponsorinfo.htm Please let your company marketing person know about this wonderful, literally traffic stopping opportunity. A great way to get the word out and help The Muses at the same time! Email us at Sponsors@TheMusesMusic.com

Well that's the Muse for this month, we have an exciting year planned for 2008 and are looking forward to seeing you all again!

Roads go ever, ever on...

Lots of Love,

-The Muses
