Adventures of Falcor the Luck Bus!

Falcor is up and running fairly smoothly now. We were fairly sure that this last trip to SD and NE would once again be in hotels. Imagine our surprise when Joe from Grace Coach called the morning we were prepared to leave and said "hey, we think we've figured it out, we need this one part and we know where to get it, why don't you stop by and we should have it running when you get here." So we figured, what the heck. Good thing we did because we got very lucky (thank you Falcor) and took Falcor with us on this tour! Once we got going, he behaved very well. Almost all gauges are now functioning well, all his appliances and electronics are fixed and working happily and we are really enjoying living in the Luck Bus. It is a very nice way to travel. All the little kinks are being worked out slowly but surely (like where to put everything and how to keep the dog out of the litterbox) and we're looking forward to taking Bejorn and Athena with us on our next trip to Texas.

Celtic Music With Zing

South Dakota & Nebraska

We just returned from our first time touring in South Dakota and Nebraska. We were invited up there by the Dakota Celts, whom we met last year at the Wyoming Celtic Festival. They are both a Celtic organization and a civic organization as they put on events and organize projects, etc. They sponsored 2 concerts for us, one in Rapid City, SD at the Elks Theater, a beautiful renovated theater in downtown where they do both live music and have movies. (The Princess Bride was showing the next night!) The other was at Chadron State College in Chadron, NE. Both were enthusiastically attended and everyone really enjoyed the shows and hope we'll come back again next year.

We also performed for the High Plains Arts Council in Sidney, NE. That was another lovely show and those who came had a lovely time and enjoyed themselves very much. All in all, our first tour to the Plains States was a lot of fun.

New Videos!

Att has been working hard on getting new video footage for folks to watch! You can go to the Blog and to the video page on the website to view the new videos from our show at Georgetown College with Michi Regier as our Side-Muse and from the High Plains Arts Council show. They can also be found at our YouTube page,

To Texas & Back Again

Well, this will be a fairly short and easy tour for us this time. We have 4 shows in Texas, then we are home for about 2 weeks in June. We have 2 more weeks at home, this time interspersed with shows at home, which we enjoy very much as it means we get to see our local friends and fans, then we have a month long tour which will take us to Montana, Wyoming, Wisconsin, (twice) and Minnesota. After that we get to come home for a bit of a summer break before we take off for the end of the summer tour. Ah the life of a Folk Star.

Thank You!

So that about wraps it up for this edition of the MuseLetter. Thank you all for staying in touch and reading up on our MusAdventures!

We are looking forward to seeing you down the road, and hopefully we will be enjoying our road a bit more now that we've got Falcor up and running! May yours be a happy trip wherever your own MusAdventures may take you, and may it not be too long till we meet again with music and laughter!

All our best to you,

-The Muses
